2. Purpose of this document

This document specifies the requirements for the use of the CertifHy logos, labels, and compliance claims.

3. Scope and Normative References

This document applies to products and entities within the scope of Economic Operators under the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme, Certification Bodies, CertifHy Members, and any other user of the CertifHy trademark as defined in this document.

The CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme trademarks include:

- The name “CertifHy”, CertifHy logos and the CertifHy product-related label
- All references to the name of the CertifHy, to itself, to the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme, or to the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme documents
- All claims, marks, labels, signs, and other graphical representations which refer to or represent the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme and/ or any part thereof

All CertifHy trademarks and all representations thereof in any format whatsoever are the sole and exclusive property of the CertifHy Scheme Operator. Any reference to and/ or use of the CertifHy trademarks and/ or of all representations thereof by the CertifHy Scheme Operator and any constituent of the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme shall follow the provisions of this document.

The use of the CertifHy trademarks is granted by the CertifHy Scheme Operator. The CertifHy Scheme Operator may deny or withdraw the right to reference and/ or use the trademarks at its sole discretion at any time, if reference to and/ or use of the CertifHy trademarks:

- does not comply with the requirements of this procedure; or if
- any action by a user of the CertifHy trademark reflects badly on the reputation of CertifHy, the CertifHy Scheme Operator and/ or any other entity closely affiliated with CertifHy.

The CertifHy Scheme Operator does not take any responsibility for legal implications of the use of this guidance document and does not claim that following this scheme document will result in legal compliance. The guidance given in this document is not intended as a substitute for legal advice. The CertifHy Scheme Operator recommends that companies also discuss claims with their legal department to ensure compliance with consumer protection laws in their target markets.

4. General requirements

The CertifHy trademarks may only be used once authorisation has been granted by the CertifHy Scheme Operator with specific terms for each user group:

- Economic Operators: permission to use of the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme labels is granted through the CertifHy EU RFNBO Terms of Use (further specification to be found in Chapter 5).
- CertifHy Members: members may use the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme trademarks once their membership has been confirmed. The CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme logo may only be used for general communication purposes; members are not permitted to use the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme product-related label.
- CertifHy Partners: use of CertifHy trademarks by partners is permitted only after signing a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the CertifHy Scheme Operator, which must include specific provisions for trademark usage. CertifHy trademarks may only be used within the scope defined by the MoU.
- Certification Bodies: CertifHy trademarks may only be used by Certification Bodies if a valid Cooperation Agreement is in place with the CertifHy Scheme Operator.
- Training, Consultancy and Technical Advisory Organisations: organisations providing training, consultancy, or technical advice on the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme must sign an agreement with the CertifHy Scheme Operator for trademark usage permission in training materials and for promotional purposes. These organisations shall not imply endorsement by the CertifHy Scheme Operator unless explicitly agreed.
- Event Partners (e.g. conference organisers): partners shall agree to the terms and conditions for using the CertifHy logo by signing a specific agreement. The CertifHy logo may only appear on promotional material for events that the CertifHy Scheme Operator supports or is engaged with.
- Media Organisations: shall sign an agreement that includes terms and conditions for using the CertifHy logo;
- Educational or Research Institutions: these organisations shall accept the terms and conditions for using the CertifHy trademarks by signing a relevant agreement.

Any users not listed above must contact the CertifHy Scheme Operator to request authorization for trademark use.

The CertifHy trademarks shall not be used in a way that could cause confusion, misinterpretation, or loss of credibility of CertifHy. The use of CertifHy trademarks by any other third-party is prohibited, unless written authorisation specifying the conditions of use is provided by the CertifHy Scheme Operator. Unauthorised use of the CertifHy trademarks is prohibited and may result in legal consequences.

Persons or corporate entities are fully responsible, accountable, and liable for the use of the CertifHy trademarks or compliance claims. When using the CertifHy trademarks alongside other trademarks, compliance claims or labels from other standard/ certification schemes or other companies that are not officially recognised by the CertifHy Scheme

Operator, trademarks must be equally visible and displayed in a way which does not imply any association, endorsement of, or relation with the other trademarks.

Any misuse of the CertifHy trademarks or compliance claims, including any misuse within the scope of an Economic Operator's certification (e.g., by sub-contractors), should be reported to the CertifHy Scheme Operator..

5. Logos & Labels

CertifHy logos and labels hold copyright protection and are a registered trademark.

5.1 CertifHy Logo

The CertifHy logo can be used by:

- Economic Operators who have signed the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme Terms of Use and who do not breach any CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme requirements;
- CertifHy Voluntary Scheme members (active membership);
- Certification Bodies with a valid Cooperation Agreement with the CertifHy Scheme Operator;
- Other organisations not covered above, e.g. project partners, such as industry and trade organisations, research institutions and NGOs, or other potential users such as journalists or media professionals after signing an agreement with the CertifHy Scheme Operator.

The CertifHy logo may be used on marketing materials, websites, sustainability reports, sustainability declarations and corporate materials. The CertifHy logo can be used with or without an accompanying statement or claim by CertifHy. Further guidance can be found in Chapter 6 'Claims' and Chapter 7 'Layout requirements'.

The logo should not be used on company documents that include statements unrelated to the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme certification.

5.2 CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme Product-Related Label

The CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme product-related label can only be used by Economic Operators with a valid CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme certificate on the condition that they do not breach any CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme requirements.

The CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme product-related label can be used for product communication documents. The use of a CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme product-related label must always be approved by the CertifHy Scheme Operator in advance.

For product related labelling, the Economic Operator shall:

- follow the design guidelines laid out in Chapter 7; and

- use the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme product-related label for certified products, which includes the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme label icon, the text “CertifHy compliant”, and the CertifHy website address.

6. Claims

6.1 General provisions

The use of a CertifHy claim offers companies the advantage of referencing an established independent third-party certification and thus underlining the credibility of their statements. A CertifHy claim is a statement that involves the name 'CertifHy', or a reference to the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme certification/ license (e.g. 'certified product').

Claims must be:

- clear, easy to understand and should not be misleading;
- accurate and based on substantiated evidence; and
- robust and transparent, providing unambiguous information about the applied certification scheme.

It is recommended to avoid creating the impression that general product-related claims are directly associated with the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme (e.g. by placing a general claim next to the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme product related label), as this could suggest a direct link to the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme.

6.2 Communication Claims

Economic Operators, Certification Bodies recognised by the CertifHy Scheme Operator and Members of the CertifHy Stakeholder Platform may use the CertifHy logo for communication (e.g. internet, email signature, signboards, corporate documents, brochures, leaflets, etc.) and are responsible for the claims they make. The CertifHy Scheme Operator reserves the right to check these claims and to request the entity to change or delete the claim if it is judged incorrect or misleading.

6.3 Product-related Claims

Economic Operators may only use product-related claims under the following conditions:

- The Economic Operator has signed the CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme Terms of Use
- The Economic Operator possesses a valid certificate of conformity issued by a recognised Certification Body
- The Economic Operator meets all requirements and the intent of this document
- The products to which the claims are applied are included in the scope of certification

Product-related communication may be used to support product-related claims such as documentation associated with CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme compliant products (e.g. Proof of Sustainability). In such cases, the use of CertifHy trademarks should clearly refer to CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme compliant products within a specific consignment or lot.

The Economic Operator shall provide the following information together with CertifHy trademarks:

- A product description
 - Displayed on the dispenser or transportation system adjacent to the on-product use of the CertifHy trademarks; or
 - provided in a separate document that is freely and readily available to the customer (e.g. on an internet page, a leaflet, the offer or the invoice). In such cases, the product-related use of CertifHy trademarks shall list a reference to the product description (e.g. “for further information see...”).
- Further information as required by the applicable CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme documentation

For CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme compliant products, the claim shall be: “CertifHy EU RFNBO compliant product”. The Economic Operator may use an equivalent claim of their choice upon prior written agreement by the CertifHy Scheme Operator and the Certification Body.

7. Requirements related to the layout

7.1 General layout related requirement

The CertifHy brand with its logos and labels stands for quality and economic added value. The CertifHy brand enjoys comprehensive trademark protection worldwide.

The CertifHy trademarks must appear in an uncluttered space and should stand alone to prevent confusion with the business name, brand name, initiative, or organisation. To ensure the best visual impact of the CertifHy logos and labels, a minimum clear area must be maintained.

The user of the CertifHy trademark must also ensure its readability at all time. The proportion between height and length must be kept.

The trademark user shall not:

- change the proportions of the CertifHy logos and labels;
- change or add contents to the logos and labels;
- use the CertifHy label for anything not covered by the scope of certification;
- combine the CertifHy trademark with the user's own branding in a way which implies association;
- place the CertifHy trademark on a strongly patterned background or image;
- place the CertifHy trademarks with another border or background;
- change the shape of the border of background of the CertifHy logos and labels;
- rotate the CertifHy logos and labels; or
- violate the clear space around the CertifHy logos and labels.

7.2 CertifHy Logo

The CertifHy word and image logo consists of the word “CertifHy” in combination with a drop surrounded by a circle in the CertifHy typic green and blue colours. This word and text combination is not interrupted by any other statement in the form of written additions.

7.3 CertifHy EU RFNBO Voluntary Scheme Product-Related Label

The basis of the product-related label is the word “CertifHy” and the colour scheme of the CertifHy logo which is outlined by a rectangle. The word "Compliant" is added underneath.

The label shall be placed in a visible position.
